

System Transformation

The transformation of New Zealand's disability support system

Prepared for the Japanese Young Core
Leaders Programme

October 2017

Overview

- Enabling Good Lives (case for change)
- Co-design process: how it worked
- High-level design
- Next steps

Enabling Good Lives

Case for change

- Disabled people wanting greater choice and control
- System - one size fits all
- Government funding fragmented
- Rising costs - $1.2 billion
- Poorer outcomes

Enabling Good Lives

- Vision
- Principles
 - Self determination
 - Beginning early
 - Person-centred
 - Ordinary life outcomes
 - Mainstream first
 - Mana (self esteem) enhancing
 - Easy to use
 - Relationship building
- 2013 - Two demonstrations

Co-design: how it worked

- Co-design group -
 - Five disabled people
 - Two representatives with disabled family members
 - Two from disability service organisations
 - Four officials

Guidelines

- Based on EGL vision & principles
- Learn from trials and evidence
- Social investment approach
- Transform system, not add layers
- Cross-government disability support
- Capped funding

High-level design

- Disability Information hub and Outreach
- Disabled people and whānau (family) capability building
- New funding model
- Expanded peer and whānau (family) networks
 - includes support for people with only paid people in their lives
- Personal information profile and tool
- Reduced monitoring
 - Depends on level of funding
- National and local governance groups
 - with disabled people/whānau (family) taking part

Why MidCentral?

1,600

People use Disability Support Services

20%

Māori population

Mix

City and rural

No trials

No previous trials

Change

Ready to change

Detailed design

- Continuing co-design
- 20+ working groups
1/3 disabled people
- Virtual testing groups
- Disability community inputs
- Governance group

More information

<http://www.enablinggoodlives.co.nz/>

www.enablinggoodlives.co.nz

Enabling Good Lives Accessibility Options Contact Us Search

About Enabling Good Lives	Good Life Stories	News and events	Getting Involved	Current Demonstrations
Meet the staff and learn the story behind Enabling Good Lives	Meet other participants and follow their journey	What's happening in the Enabling Good Lives Community	Information for you and your Whanau	Find an Enabling Good Lives Demonstration near your location

A new approach to supporting disabled people

System Transformation
Find out about the work under way to transform the disability support system.

MidCentral Updates
Stay up to date with developments in the MidCentral area

Enabling Good Lives Christchurch
Find out more about the Christchurch